Request for Proposals Kentucky Biomass to Electricity Feasibility Study Grants October 1, 2009 – June 30, 2010

Section 1 – Background on the Department for Energy Development and Independence

In accordance with Kentucky's strategic energy plan, Intelligent Energy Choices for Kentucky's Future, the Department for Energy Development and Independence (DEDI) strives to enhance the economic opportunities and benefits to Kentucky citizens and industry by encouraging development of renewable sources.

To the extent funding is available the DEDI administers grant programs to support energy feasibility, research, development, and demonstration, including the support of multi-state cooperative regional partnerships and research initiatives.

The DEDI strives to implement programs for the development, conservation, and utilization of energy in a manner to meet essential human needs while maintaining the Kentucky economy at the highest feasible level.

The DEDI enters into agreements, administers grant programs, and serves as a liaison with the federal government and other states in matters relating to energy.

The DEDI uses state funding as a match for federal or private funding to increase the resources available to support energy research and development.

The DEDI explores and develops regional partnerships and cooperative research initiatives with other states and governmental entities to enhance resources available for energy research and development.

Section 2 – Description of Funding

DEDI has appropriated $25,000 in fiscal year 2009-2010 which will be used for the funding of feasibility studies that contemplate the development of renewable sources of electricity from biomass (bio-power) plants that have a size of 5 to 50 megawatts.

The size of such projects shall range from 5 to 50 megawatts, and shall be fueled by biomass produced within the state of Kentucky.

One or more feasibility study will be awarded funding under this program. The successful respondent(s) to this Request for Proposals will have adequate funding to supplement any awards received through this program. The proposals ultimately funded will be consistent with and part of the broader energy strategies for Kentucky.

Section 4 - Proposal Requirements

Respondents shall submit a detailed plan for developing the feasibility study for one or more projects that might lead to the commercialization of Kentucky's bio-power resources. The plan shall include the following:

- -A narrative description of the plan for development of the feasibility study as well as discussion of the role that funds from this program would play in the further development of the project. The narrative shall include a list of tasks to be performed and a description of how each task shall be accomplished, and any documentation of independent review;
- -A detailed schedule;
- -Identification of deliverables;
- -Resumes of personnel who will be involved in the feasibility study and a description of the ways and degrees that they will be involved; (please provide resumes of all key personnel who will work on the study and a management organization chart).
- -A detailed budget for each task, including, but not limited to, personnel charges, fringe benefits,

Proposals will be evaluated according to the respondent's ability to meet the objectives of this RFP as indicated by (a) demonstration of the study's ability to further the energy development goals of the Commonwealth; and (b) the expertise and experience of personnel who will be involved in the study. The plan will be evaluated in terms of the following:

- -Amount of funding committed to this project by sources other than this program;

- -Regular and timely reporting of progress and expenditures;
- -Qualifications of project managers and personnel;
